Dear Friends of the Accordion,

As you recall the events of our last meeting, please channel your thoughts in my direction so that I may have insight into what actually occurred. Remember, I was not in attendance. By now, some of you are likely thinking “I didn’t notice”, or “So what”, or “I don’t care”, or “I thought something was different”. Ahh haaahhhhhh, here comes some channeling: “Remember to plant tomatoes, peppers, eggplant (or for those fuffy food-a-philes “aborigines”), and zucchini no later than the first of June”. Well, though that is timely information, it hardly helps in this situation.

According to Paul who MC’d in my absence, the trio of Glenna Archibald, Joan Weitzel, and Susan Henshaw, collectively known as The Accords, performed their musical delectables. Susan was called away early due to a previous commitment, but was quickly replaced by the Adiads (remember, a chord is three notes, a diad is two). Whether three or two, the Accords, I am told played splendidly. There is some discussion in the community as to whether they should become a quartet since they now possess something George Gershwin sought for many years before finding it----they have a rhythm unit to assist them. As always, we hope to see them once again in the not too distant future.

Pat Whall, and Leland Flinders (sans Dave Marasco) entertained the club as well with two accordions and three-part harmony. Don’t ask me how they do it. We enjoyed their music!

On June 3, we will have the privilege of having the musician, comic, entertainer, and stilt-walker Brian Hubrich. Brian is quite famous for taking songs of yore, yesteryear, or last month, and altering them in many ways to make statements of all sorts. Bach, polkas, movie pieces, or just plain self-composed songs all have a place in Brian’s repertoire. He has played for many an organization, including the Disneyland in Japan. Please come and sample Brian’s styles.

Our next club meeting will be held at Kowloon Café at 6:30pm on June 3rd. Always remember the words of Julia Childs, “Dining with an accordion family is equal to sampling fine hors d’ouerves , provolone, prosciutto, marinated olives, and hard bread (I’m not sure about the hard bread or anything else, for that matter).

The Wasatch Accordion Club is cordially invited to the grand finale concert of Camp Concerto, 7:30 PM, Thursday, June 20 at the Commander’s House on the historic Fort Douglas – which is located above the University of Utah Campus at 1965 De Trobriand St, Salt Lake City (see map).

“Keep Squeezin”
